ADA NSW Knowledge Centre Services

The ADA NSW Knowledge Centre, incorporating the Hardwick Memorial Library, has been in operation since 1929 making available a wealth of learning resources to members. Our staff are here to provide information and professional search assistance. Help with all your information needs is only an email or phone call away. Remember this service is free to all ADANSW members and many of the Knowledge Centre resources are accessible online at any time. Our services include:

A comprehensive range of dentistry specific books.

Our web based service allows you to search our comprehensive range of materials. You can request any item from our collection and it will be posted to you anywhere in NSW.

Electronic books and journals to read on line

The Knowledge Centre contains a huge range of electronic books, articles and journals which can be viewed immediately. We also provide quick links to recently added materials

Electronic extracts from books or journals sent via email

You can request sections of particular books, journals or articles to be sent electronically. If you find something you are interested in, send a request and our staff will email the materials to you.

Personalised search service

If you can't find what you are after or would like some assistance in your search, our staff are available to help. We can perform searches with, and for, you to locate relevant information with the results emailed to you. We can also offer advice on developing your search skill set.
