

Elsevier ScienceDirect E-Resources – December 2023 update

Access to subscribed E-resources (journal and book)

ADA Inc have upgraded their Digital Library site enabling a more streamlined authentication system for members when accessing e-resources. The previous username and password access is no longer valid and NSW members now need to follow an Institutional login process that uses their ADA Federal Member number and password (same as normally used by members to login into the Federal website). There are several entry points allowing access to the ScienceDirect e-resources that utilise this login method.
